M'CARTHY PROBE GROUP NAMED

Senate Debates Controversial Farm Measure

Bumper Crop Oratory Makes It Uncertain When Solons To Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bumper crop of oratory made it uncertain today how soon the Senate would get around to voting on controversial new farm legislation.

Sen. Young (R-ND), floor leader for a bipartisan group of senators who are backing the Eisenhower administration plan for flexible farm price supports, said:

"If we can pick up three more votes we can win."

Young favors a one-year extension of present rigid supports on five basic crops—wheat, corn, rice, cotton and peanuts. He said a long list of speeches probably would prevent any vote today.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt), floor manager for the administration proposals, insisted that the Senate would back flexible supports when the showdown comes.

"We've not lost a vote," Aiken declared.

BOTH AIKEN and Sen. Anderson (D-NM), former secretary of agriculture and a longtime backer of flexible supports, said they hoped for a vote yet tonight.

Young recounted repeated statements by Secretary of Agriculture Benson in opposition to continued rigid price supports, and he added:

"This is not what we promised to farmers two years ago during the election campaign."

"I challenge anyone in the Senate of the United States to point to a single speech by President Eisenhower during his campaign two years ago in the Midwest where he ever mentioned flexible price supports."

Pending is an amendment sponsored by Aiken, Anderson and other members of the Senate Agriculture Committee that would put into operation next year a system of flexible supports ranging from 80 to 90 percent of parity on the five basic crops.

A sixth, tobacco, will be supported at 90 percent of parity under a separate law.

As the bill now stands it would continue the 90 percent supports which have operated since World War II for another year.

The House has voted for flexible supports between 82½ and 90 percent of parity, a legal standard said to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

The administration originally asked that the price support range be fixed at 75 to 90 percent of parity, but Aiken told his colleagues yesterday that in no event will the support price on a basic crop next year be lower than 85 percent.

Arrested Driver Collapses, Dies

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—A traffic officer stopped Rudolph Goebel's car after a traffic rule infraction and asked for Goebel's driver's license.

While the officer was looking at it yesterday, Goebel, 57, slumped over the steering wheel. He was pronounced dead at a hospital.

Are you a "litterbug" or a "strewball"?

Are you one of the many visitors to Ohio's parks and other places who strew paper, garbage, cans, etc., about the area who's beauty and facilities you went to enjoy?

Whether or not you are guilty—and there are many who are—you will be reminded constantly to "keep it clean" in the state park areas the remainder of the summer season.

The Ohio Division of Parks has posted some 2,000 "Don't Be A Litterbug" signs on refuse barrels in all of the 55 state parks under the control of the Division.

The slogan and signs, originated by the Garden Clubs of America are also being used by the Ohio Highway Department in urging travelers and visitors to their roadside parks to put refuse where it belongs—in the containers which are adequately provided.

Russians Still Pushing Plan To Wreck West's Defense

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia's new proposal for a Big Four foreign ministers meeting is officially regarded here as part of a persistent drive to wreck Western anti-Communist defenses and to destroy eventually American leadership of the free world.

Officials said today Britain and France stand firmly with the United States in opposition to this Kremlin campaign. They forecast that the Russian proposal for new talks on European security will be turned down by joint decision.

Three-power talks on a reply are now getting underway in London.

However, further Soviet moves are expected. The belief here is that the Russians may try to devise proposals of increasing attractiveness to Western Europe. Their immediate major aim is to block West German rearmament.

Their proposal for an over-all European security system has been put forth as an alternative to the Western-sponsored European Defense Community proposing to rearm Western Germany as part of a six-nation army. EDC is due to come up for action soon in the French Assembly.

Russia's campaign to destroy U. S. leadership and isolate the U. S. is being developed along two main lines.

One is directed toward convincing non-Communist nations not only in Europe but all over the world that the Communist bloc wants only peace. The agreement of the Reds to end the war in Indochina fits into that line, as does their European plan.

The other line is directed toward convincing the free nations that the U. S. is not peaceful but is committed to starting a new war.

President Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday the Soviets are "spending literally billions in different kinds of propaganda" and using subversion and bribery to drive this toward acceptance by millions.

The President declared the United States must "be more imaginative in finding ways to combat" the Soviet campaign.

The latest Soviet maneuver was made yesterday when Russian ambassadors in Paris, London and Washington delivered notes proposing the foreign ministers of the Big Four powers should meet in August or September to discuss the calling of a big All-European conference on European security and on some German problems.

The Russians had made like proposals earlier, most recently on July 24, urging creation of a European-wide security system which would include Russia and the Iron Curtain countries. They have frankly offered this as an alternative to EDC. They have suggested that the United States should be a member, that Red China should be an observer and that Russia might be taken into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The whole concept of such a security system clashes with the systems in being and proposed by the Western powers with the goal of blocking Soviet aggression.

OVERCOME BY REMORSE, Roy Benson, 25, leans over bridegroom-to-be Norbert Rupp, 23, on table in a San Francisco hospital, crying, "Please forgive me for doing this to you!" Rupp was riding in a car driven by Benson when it crashed into a light pole, and Rupp received severe jaw and lip lacerations. Doctors said Rupp's injuries would not necessitate postponement of his wedding a few days hence. (International Soundphoto)

110,000 Barrels Of Whisky Lost In Spectacular Blaze

PEKIN, Ill. (AP)—Flames licked close to whisky-packed rackhouses at the American Distilling Co. plant today where 110,000 barrels of aging whisky have gone up in seething flame and shattering explosion since yesterday morning.

At least one person has been killed, seven are feared dead under smoldering debris and more than 30 have been injured.

The continuing fire, capped by a dazzling, nighttime, atomic-like explosion seen 75 miles away, destroyed much of the company's sprawling plant facilities in this central Illinois city.

Damage already is well into the millions of dollars.

The explosion last night lifted the roof and walls of one rackhouse, a six story brick building, high into the air. The debris rained down on firemen and plant workers fighting to halt the fierce, whisky-fed blaze touched off 17 hours earlier during a severe electrical storm.

BRICKS BURIED Two fire trucks and a fire chief's car.

Firemen who were drawing their water from the Illinois River and reportedly handicapped by a lack of sufficient pressure, were ordered to retreat a quarter of a mile because of the threat of new explosions.

The fire yesterday morning consumed two 8-story rackhouses where whisky is stored in barrels for aging and a 4-story brick customs storage house. Some 42,000 barrels of whisky were lost.

Firemen from Peoria and a half dozen adjoining communities, worked from 2:30 a. m. to extinguish the blaze.

But at 7:30 p. m. rackhouse E containing 68,000 barrels of whisky, exploded with a blinding flash. It was condensed to a glowing smoldering pile of debris 50 feet high.

Four more rackhouses containing thousands of barrels of whisky extend in a straight line from rackhouse E and firemen expressed fear they may "go down like dominoes."

The distillery, which employs about 700 persons, closed down July 1 and only a skeleton crew was on duty in the rackhouses.

Novice Driver Killed In Crash

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Anna Sommer, 55, driving on a learner's permit, was fatally injured yesterday when her car went out of control.

The car hurtled onto a sidewalk, grazed a tree, knocked over 15 feet of wooden fence, smashed through a closed metal garage and plunged down a 35-foot embankment.

In the car with her was her husband, Edward. He suffered a head bruise.

Second Woman Being Tied To Murder Case

Police Say 5 Amorous Escapades Linked To Bay Village Doctor

CLEVELAND (AP)—Police reported today they have a signed statement from another woman admitting she had recent dates with Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard.

The woman was described as a former patient of the 30-year-old osteopath who is charged with first-degree murder in the slaying of his pregnant wife, Marilyn, 31.

The information was disclosed by a high police official who refused to be identified by name. He also said investigators now have established five amorous escapades in the life of Dr. Sheppard.

The only woman identified so far is Miss Susan Hayes, 24-year-old hospital technician, who returned here from Los Angeles to tell of intimacies with the defendant.

In the latest case, the officer said, the husband of the woman signed a statement saying he slapped his wife because she took a walk with Dr. Sheppard.

THE WOMAN said she had "three or four dates" with the handsome osteopath and they "hugged and kissed, nothing more."

On one occasion, the woman said in her statement, they took a two-hour auto ride and parked in a park. She admitted being the more aggressive of the two.

Dr. Sheppard previously had been questioned about the woman, police said, and denied their relationship was anything other than strictly "doctor-patient."

Reason for police emphasis on the "other woman" angle in solving the murder seems to be an effort to establish a motive.

Soviet Navy May Have 90 Pacific Subs

TOKYO (AP)—The Russian Navy may have as many as 90 submarines in the Pacific area, Vice Adm. William Callaghan, commander of U. S. naval forces in the Far East, estimated today.

"These submarines definitely would be a threat to maintaining sea lines of communication," said the gray-haired admiral whose job would be to fight them in the event of war with the Soviets.

"Russia has a total of 375 submarines," Callaghan said, "and we feel it would be reasonable to expect that one-quarter of them are in the Pacific."

He estimated the Russian Pacific fleet also has 50 destroyers and two cruisers, but no aircraft carriers or battleships.

"Submarines and air power are their greatest threat, so far as Soviet capability is concerned," Callaghan said.

Two weeks ago, Gen. Earle E. Partridge, Far East Air Forces commander, said combined Soviet, Chinese and North Korean air forces had 7,500 planes, most of them Russian.

Russian ground strength in the Far East has been estimated at 35 combat divisions by a high-ranking officer on the staff of Gen. John E. Hull, Far East chief.

Callaghan's present command includes the U. S. 7th Fleet, made up of destroyers, cruisers and aircraft carriers, plus the Amphibious Force, West Pacific, made up of attack transports, cargo ships and landing craft.

Lad Surrounded By 15 Big Cops

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Nine-year old Charles Tiger got locked inside of a big wholesale food warehouse last night and accidentally tripped a burglar alarm.

He crawled out from behind a packing crate to find 15 policemen facing him with guns drawn.

"You caught me," he said. "Bet-cha can't catch the other six guys who are in here with me."

A systematic search of the warehouse, lasting 45 minutes, produced no one. Officers decided to talk to Charley again.

The youngster broke down. "Ain't nobody here but me."

Friday and Saturday Are Dollar Days Here

Friday and Saturday will be Dollar Days at most of the stores in Washington C. H.

These two days were designated several months ago as the days when special bargains would be offered and ever since that time the participating retailers have been preparing for this event.

The Dollar Days are a part of the promotion drawn up by the Retail Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce. At the time it was emphasized in the meetings of the retailers that the bargains offered on Dollar Days would have to be real bargains; they all agreed they would be just that.

Some of the stores will have Dollar Day specials with price tags of just $1, but the bargains are not limited to small items, rather, the Dollar Days have been set up as Dollar Saving Days at the participating stores.

These stores have made plans to have one special they will feature as "door openers"—that is, a bargain so good that it makes door opening irresistible.

The super-duper bargains, these "door openers," are underscored in the advertisements of these participating merchants on pages 14 and 15 in today's Record-Herald.

However, these are not the only dollar saving bargains that have been laid out in these stores for the Friday and Saturday Dollar Days.

In other advertisements in today's Record-Herald these merchants have a message that will make everyone in this trade area happy.

Nearly every type of retail store in Washington C. H. is represented in the Dollar Day lineup. Their advertisements not only tell what stores have the dollar saving specials but also show what good bargains they are offering.

Much of the merchandise featured on Dollar Days was bought especially for the occasion and some of the price tags on it are below cost.

Under the plan adopted for Dollar Days, the money-saving price tags are to be taken off after the stores close Saturday night and the former regular prices will be back when the stores reopen Monday.

Great Plains Farmers Find Going Tough During Drought

DALLAS (AP)—Farmers and ranchers are glum and despondent in the vast drought country where corn and cotton droops and cattle graze on brown pastures.

"Unless we assist in every possible way," says Agriculture Commissioner John White of Texas, "thousands of our rural people will have to abandon the land."

White speaks for only one state. But drought still rules all the Great Plains, in spite of recent rains and federal aid to six states.

Good rains in some sun-burned sections have been more helpful, but not enough to save most crops. Here is what men who live on the seared land throughout the disaster areas say:

Only a lot more rain, and then still more, can finally beat the drought and save them. When that happy day will arrive is an impossible guess. Meanwhile, they need federal help to hang on. And, they grumble, they aren't getting enough.

"I DON'T THINK they're expecting a 'dole,'" White said. "For the sake of our economic future, we have to help the little farmer and rancher stay on the farm. We can't help them if they are forced to drift into the cities to seek employment."

The number of states eligible for federal aid reached six this week when Oklahoma and Missouri were added to Colorado, Wyoming, New Mexico and Texas.

Six more states—Alabama, Arkansas, Kansas, Kentucky, Georgia and Tennessee—have asked to be included. The government's emergency program is aimed at helping livestock men hang onto their foundation herds. The government has agreed to pay half the cost of shipping hay into the disaster areas.

The Agriculture Department also will pay a subsidy of 60 cents per hundred pounds of corn, oats, barley and grain sorghums. The subsidy will go to the dealers, and ranchers can then buy these grains at cut-rate prices.

But this program will leave feed prices somewhat higher than they were last summer under a more liberal federal emergency program. For example, you could buy a bushel of corn last year for $1. Now it will cost about $1.50.

POT-PAN SALESMAN Loses Temper

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—This salesman literally beat his prospect over the head—with the merchandise.

Erwin E. Hunter told police the salesman came to his door yesterday and sought to interest Hunter in some pots and pans. Hunter said he declined politely, whereupon the pot merchant banged Hunter on the noggin with a pan.

Hunter said that, when he recovered from his surprise, he floored the peddler with a right to the jaw. The salesman got up and fled, taking his wares with him. Police are looking for him on an assault charge.

Six Senators Due To Judge Solon's Conduct

3 From Each Party Selected To Weigh Whether To Censure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon today appointed a six-member Senate committee to make an investigation of the conduct of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and consider proposals that the Wisconsin senator be censured.

The members: Sen. Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah), Sen. Frank Carlson (R-Kan.), Sen. Francis Case (R-SD), Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), Sen. John C. Stennis (D-Miss), Sen. Sam J. Ervin (D-NC).

While Nixon announced the appointments, the actual selections were made by party leaders.

The Senate Democratic Policy Committee had an early morning meeting to decide finally on the Democratic members. All three are former judges.

Vice President Nixon made the announcement of appointment of the committee after calling a quorum of the members to the chamber.

Behind-the-scenes maneuvers to line it up had been going on steadily since the Senate voted Monday night to create the committee.

THE VOTE ENDED a bitter debate in the Senate touched off by a resolution by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) calling for censure of McCarthy.

The motion for creation of the committee, offered by GOP Leader Knowland, includes a provision that the committee should report before this session of Congress adjourns.

There appears to be a strong possibility, however, that any report by that time—since congressional leaders are driving for adjournment by next weekend—could not go much further than to say the committee would need more time for its study.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), speaking from his experiences gained in presiding over the recent McCarthy-Army inquiry, said a new probe could last "two or three months."

The job will be to cull out some of the 46 overlapping charges leveled at McCarthy by Sen. Flanders, Morse (Ind-Ore) and Fulbright (D-Ark) and investigating the others.

Although Knowland and others have said they hoped the committee (Please turn to page two)

Telephone Booth Yields Collection

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Workmen cleaning behind a brace of 30-year old telephone booths in City Hall yesterday found some articles apparently discarded by telephone callers over the years.

They included: A dozen newspapers dating back to 1925, three bottles of what appeared to be Prohibition-type rum and a flag of the Philadelphia Sesqui-centennial Exposition held in 1926.

Thugs Fire Freely In Two Holdups

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Three gunmen early today robbed two service stations, wounded one attendant, sprayed police car and made their escape.

The chase started after one of the gunmen shot and slightly wounded 21-year-old William J. Covert of Butler, when he refused to surrender the cash receipts at a service station.

The holdup fired at least six shots, then fled to a waiting car. From Butler, the desperadoes headed for Zelienople where they forced Ray Bauder to hand over an undetermined amount of cash at his service station. A police cruiser trailed their car for several minutes, losing contact after the gunmen fired two bursts.

INNKEEPER SHOT

RUSSELLS POINT (AP)—Logan County deputy sheriffs today sought an armed, mustachioed man driving a red convertible for the shooting last night of Homer Myers, 54, Island View tavern owner. He was treated for a stomach wound.

New Decorations Considered Here

Yuletide Dress May Be Changed

Washington C. H. may not have those garlands of greenery and twinkling vari-colored lights across the streets of the business area next Christmas.

This possibility—it was considered even a probability—came to light Thursday with the announcement that Leroy Fryman of Dayton would meet with Russell Hinchey, chairman of the Christmas lighting committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and Glen Allen, the secretary, to talk about holiday decorations Friday morning.

It was explained that if the new boulevard lights are put up before Christmas, it is not likely that the strands of lights can be stretched between them across the streets because the new light standards might not be of the type suitable for the anchors for them.

Besides, it has been suggested that if the Chamber of Commerce is to get new, or additional, Yuletide—decorations, they should be selected with a view to harmony with the new and brighter lights and new type standards.

The new boulevard lights, authorized by council, are designed to provide more light for the business section.

Hinchey, the manager of the G. C. Murphy Co. Store, and Allen are to go over the line of Christmas decorations and then make recommendations to the committee later.

The light strands have been a part of the Christmas decorations here for many years—nobody knows just how many—and are placed in storage for the months when they are not in use.

They usually are put up late in November, around Thanksgiving, and remain across the streets until after New Year's Day.

Much Duplication Seen In Campaign

HAMILTON (U)—Local housewives ran into a new wrinkle yesterday in a campaign to raise money for the polio fund.

Four small boys made the rounds of their neighborhood collecting canned goods which they said would be sold for the benefit of the polio fund.

A few hours later the same small boys were back at the same doors—they were selling the same canned goods back to the same housewives.

It all went over very well, however. The youngsters netted $7 for the polio drive—plus a few spare rans of fruit for themselves.

county jail today and listened to a portable radio and read magazines about "hot rod" cars. Detectives yesterday halted their questioning, saying the prisoner would not talk and they were merely wasting time.

Attorneys for the physician filed two complaints with the Cuyahoga and Cleveland Bas Assns. against Sheriff Joseph M. Sweeney, contending Dr. Sheppard had been deprived of his civil rights.

Although they did not specify what their complaint was based on, they previously contended they had not been able to see the defendant as often as they wished.

The Rev. Alfred C. Kroke, pastor of Bay Village Methodist church, visited the prisoner yesterday and said Dr. Sheppard complained detectives keep "thrusting before him pictures of his murdered wife."

He said Dr. Sheppard ceased talking to detectives because of the pictures and repetitious questions he had been asked. The minister said Dr. Sheppard felt police were only interested in convicting him.

On a volunteer basis, detectives began taking the finger prints and palm prints of anyone in Bay Village who might have been in the Sheppard home about the time of the slaying.

One palm print, found on the desk in the Sheppard home, never has been identified.

Jail Breaker Is Hunted Here

Five-County Search Made by Hundreds

Fayette County and Washington C. H. law enforcement officers today had joined the search for a 19-year-old youth who escaped from the Madison County Jail at London Wednesday.

Sheriff Orland Hays and his deputy, Don Thompson were alerted by radio Wednesday afternoon and spent the rest of the day in the search.

Hundreds of volunteers joined a ground and air search for Carl Castel with orders to officers to "shoot to kill."

The search party was headed by state highway patrolmen and deputy sheriffs from Madison, Franklin, Fayette, Clark and Pickaway counties.

Castel escaped from the jail yesterday by overpowering Deputy Kenneth H. Johnson, 66, as Johnson, alone at the time, was attempting to return prisoners to their cells following showers.

Sheriff Hays said law enforcement officers suspected that Castel had made his getaway in a 1953 Ford station wagon. The license number was given as OJ-139.

McCarthy Probe

tee could make a swift investigation and report before the scheduled mid-month adjournment of Congress, Mundt said he doubts such speed will be possible.

Mundt said he thinks "two or three months" will be needed to sift the evidence charges unless the committee limits the number of witnesses to be heard. And he advised against that.

MUNDT SAID, however, that this would be time well spent "if we could dispose of all of these charges one way or the other and put the action behind us so the Senate could go on to more important business."

Sen. McClellan of Arkansas, senior Democrat on the investigations subcommittee, shared this general view. He said that subcommittee's report on the McCarthy - Army row ought to be made before mid-August and that the Senate should stay around after House adjournment to act on the censure report.

"I think the whole McCarthy controversy—both the McCarthy-Army hearings and the censure charges—should be disposed of before the Senate adjourns," he declared.

McCarthy declined to comment on President Eisenhower's news conference statement yesterday that the President cannot escape responsibility for what goes on within his party.

Eisenhower said the kind of thing now going on in the Senate—meaning the McCarthy controversy—is going to affect the party but he could not tell just how. He said it was the Senate's business, but nevertheless he must take such measures as are available to him to try to avoid any ameliorate party-splitting rows.

Much Conversation Deals In 'I, My, Me and Mine'

Seldom do most of us realize how some of our own habits annoy other people while we complain of how other people annoy us.

In listening to a group of local people discussing this matter the other day, one of them called attention to a recent popular comedy in which an egotistical actor rushes upon the stage and shouts to the other players: "I have only a few moments to spare. Let's spend all of that time in talking about me."

As a matter of fact, while most people are not quite so frank about this, there are many men and women who apparently feel that the most important subject in their conversations with others, or perhaps in the world, is their own affairs.

Aside from the doting grandfathers and grandmothers who carry pictures of their grandchildren and who, at the slightest provocation, bring them out and insist upon everybody looking at them and raving over the kids' good looks, there are many other types far more annoying because in such cases these grandparents take time which may annoy others who are interrupted in talking about their own grandchildren. That is not a very serious thing for complaint, however. There are some other things much worse.

Let's take a look at the chronic peddler of ailments. The story is told about one old fellow in a neighboring town who was late getting home one evening. His wife remarked to a daughter that she wondered what had delayed him. "Probably someone asked him how he was feeling today and he proceeded to tell him," the daughter replied. "That would take about an hour."

There seems to be something very enjoyable to some people in talking about physical ailments (preferably their own) with all the tiresome and disgusting details. Nobody really cares to hear about your operation. He wants to talk about his.

The confirmed egotist believes that his children, his home, his business, his activities, his hobbies and his achievements are the best, the biggest and the most important on earth. He also is convinced that his opinions are inspired and nearly superhuman. He is ready at any time to make a speech about his pet theories to his own friends, employees, or any other captive audience he can find.

A friend of mine once wrote to me this gem: "We all subscribe to the principle of disagreement. Nevertheless, it is hard to accord our full favor to those who violently disagree with us. Since we feel that our superior mental processes have brought us to certain conclusions, they could only be arrived at by intellects equal to our own."

One night not very long ago, we heard a fine older Fayette County farmer, a man of few words but a good thinker, say this during a conversation among friends: "Go out tonight and look up at the stars spread over the vast expanse of sky and think how small you are, how small any person is."

Seldom do most of us recognize how insignificant most humans seem under the canopy of heaven where countless worlds have been spinning in space since the Divine Architect set them there ages ago by methods beyond our understanding.

After all, contemplation of this can bring us some idea of how trivial are our own little plans, our petty worries, our self-centered thoughts and above all, our petty selfishness, in many things we do.

It has been said that big minds concern themselves with ideas; medium minds concentrate and talk about current events and little minds talk about people, mostly themselves.

Young Braves Abandon Tradition

By Hal Boyle

PINE RIDGE, S. D. (AP)—The old Sioux, in the days when they ruled the great plains, had a festival that combine in theme several of the white man's holidays.

It was called the sun dance, and to the Indians it was Christmas, Easter, Thanksgiving and a family reunion all wrapped in one.

In those times the wandering Sioux bossed the land and chased the buffalo from Kansas to Canada, from the Mississippi River to the Rocky Mountains.

But once a year the roving tribesmen came together and were knit into a nation by the sun dance, a ceremonial that symbolized their unity and common faith in the Great Spirit.

The government, in an effort to destroy a tradition which it feared always held the danger of stirring up the fierce Sioux in fresh outbreaks, banned the sun dance in 1886. But it was revived more than 20 years ago, and last week Indians came hundreds of miles to the spiraling Pine Ridge reservation here for a renewal of the symbolic centuries-old festival.

In earlier times no formal date for the ceremony was set. The Indians simply drifted together as if pulled by a magnet by nature's signals—the time when the buffalo were fat, when the choke-berries ripened, when new sage sprouts sprang foot-high, when moccasins made a crisp echo in the dry grass of summer.

This year Frank Fools Crow, sent out the call. Thousands of Indians came by horse and wagon, on foot or in beaten-up automobiles. They pitched their modern tents and faded tepees around a great enclosure of willow poles hung with green pine boughs.

In the center of the enclosure stood a slender young cottonwood tree. The tree, selected in advance by a medicine man, had been carried to the site and erected by strong Braves who took care to see that none of its leaves touched the ground. To the Sioux the leaves of this sacred tree stood for human hearts and must not be bruised.

Sheets of sweet-smelling sage, standing for purity, were placed in the crotch. From them dangled a piece of buffalo robe and man-shaped figure cut from a piece of buffalo skin, symbolizing the Sioux dependence on the buffalo.

The sun dance itself is designed to demonstrate the four great Sioux virtues—bravery, generosity, fortitude and integrity.

This year three young Braves volunteered for the ordeal. Two were veterans who had pledged themselves to perform a sun dance in gratitude for their safe return from Korea.

To purify and prepare themselves, the three first took a sweat bath in an "Ini," or sweat house, made of willow boughs covered with buffalo skins. Steam was provided by pouring water over hot rocks in a pit within the sweat house.

The dancers were then painted red for the sun, blue for the sky, yellow for the rocks, green for the earth.

Without food or water the three men then danced around the cottonwood tree to the music of beating tom-toms and the eerie, high-pitched chants of singers. They danced in turn in the direction of the four winds, pausing only when the tom-tom beaters had to rest.

I watched the dance for part of each day, but to me the dance, monotonous in itself, was less interesting than the faces of the old Indians and their squaws on the sidelines.

They wore a look of mingled pride, mystic exaltation and sadness. To them this was no dance of celebration—it was the pageant of mankind's terrible struggle to survive, a victory of man's spirit over all the enemies he meets in his brief life under a blazing sun.

The look on the faces of the young braves in the audience was stirred by the symbolism of the dance. They were more interested in making eyes at the young Indian maidens. For them the sun dance was just another opportunity for courtship.

Frank Fools Crow, who wears long braids as his forefathers did, said sadly:

"The young Indians no longer care much for our old customs. This may be our last sun dance."

The young braves and their maidens prefer to jitterbug. Slowly but inevitably the once mighty Sioux are taking the white man's roads, roads that will scatter them to the four winds.

Legitimate Objectives Question

By George Sokolsky

Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Democratic leader of the Senate, in supporting Senator William Knowland, Republican leader, raised the very serious question of the legitimate objectives of the United States. These have never been clearly defined in terms understandable to the American people. What are we after? What do we want? When we ask a European power to be our ally, what program do we present to that nation?

Senator Johnson said:

"We shall soon have before us a 3-1/2 billion dollar foreign aid bill. It is no secret that many people have very serious reservations about this measure. They want to know the extent to which this aid will actually support the legitimate objectives of the U. S., and the extent to which it will maintain policies which no longer have vitality."

"Certainly, before the measure finally clears the Senate there will be a definite insistence upon assurances that some of the nations to which aid will go will have to put their own houses in order."

Further, Senator Johnson said:

"There are certain factors which must be taken into consideration."

"First, the American people want no appeasement of the Communists."

"Second, the American people will refuse to support the United Nations if Communist China becomes a member."

"Third, the American people have become very uneasy over the intentions and objectives of our allies."

While these statements are important, they do not state the legitimate objectives of the United States. They tell us what we ought to do if we are again defeated at the diplomatic table, but unless our national program is clear and understandable, we are bound to be defeated again as we have been at every conference since Teheran in 1943 and Yalta in 1945. Senator Wayne Morse made this point in reply to Senator Johnson:

"We do not like to have it said about us, but the fact remains that throughout Asia today we are feared. We do not like to have it said about us, but the fact remains that in many allied countries there is a mounting opinion that what the United States will insist upon is that either it will be followed or the world will be involved in war. That is a wrong opinion of our country."

The truth is not quite as Senator Morse said. It is not feared in Asia because we have been defeated in Asia. For an Asiatic, it is impossible to believe that so great and mighty a country as the United States will accept defeat in Korea and Indochina without taking some steps to defend its dignity and protect its prestige. Therefore, Asia, particularly India, expects that the United States will stage a come-back in Asia and as Nehru has stated in his welcome to Chou En-Lai, India wants peace — peace at any price.

As for the European countries that have gone neutralist, Senator Morse again does not appear to understand the psychological and moral effect of our defeat in Korea. Every country in Europe was forced to revise its position after that defeat; it was forced to wonder whether it was safe to be allied to the United States.

What Senators William Knowland and Lyndon Johnson propose is that we seek a common denominator with our allies and negotiate from that weakened position.

Incidentally, these three speeches, Knowland's, Johnson's, and Morse's, are among the best made on the subject of Asia during this session and indicate a better understanding of the present situation than has been usual in the Senate. While Morse differs from Knowland and Johnson in many respects, he agrees with them to this extent:

"I do not want Red China recognized by the United Nations."

High Blood Pressure Due To Infection

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

In certain cases of high blood pressure, the cause cannot be identified. However, when it occurs in a woman over the age of thirty-five, it may be due to a chronic or prolonged infection of the kidney.

A woman's kidneys are more susceptible to infection than a man's due to the difference in the body organs. In fact, these infections sometimes have their origin in early life, dating back to babyhood.

It is often difficult to diagnose hypertension that occurs because of a kidney disease. Unexplained fever and chills are often symptomatic of it. There may be secondary damage of the kidneys due to the hypertension.

Even if the kidney condition is corrected, high blood pressure may continue, due to the permanent damage suffered by one or both kidneys.

Careful examination by a physician should include a urinalysis, in order to determine if a kidney disease is or is not causing the hypertension.

Once the kidney ailment has been cured, the high blood pressure will very often disappear.

Voice and Point Four Doing Good

By George Sokolsky

Editor's Note: This is the fourth in a series of articles by Ray Tucker from Egypt.

CAIRO—The Voice of America is extremely efficient or incredibly stupid in selling our foreign aims and policy in this strategic section of the world, depending on the viewpoint of the individuals questioned on the result of its operations.

In one instance, they happen to be American businessmen, foreign officials and newspaper correspondents who are keenly interested in the success or failure of our efforts in this line because of their friendship for or their dislike of us. Although the Tass representative tries to sell a Moscow bill of goods, he is a fairly decent and realistic guy.

An American aviation firm's agent, whose territory includes the Middle East and India as far as Calcutta, submits a rosy report. The Voice's radio broadcasts, he says, are not heard by the masses because they cannot afford a radio. But the influential leaders of thought and opinion, the articulate and intellectual and professional men, he finds, do listen in and obtain the American viewpoint.

Editors of daily and weekly newspapers are regular listeners, and there are 700 publications in the area he visits periodically. They are message-bearers for American propaganda, according to him. They spread the word or the news or the interpretation which they have received via radio. As respected and leading citizens, their second-hand report of the Voice's broadcasts molds public opinion, which, he says, is favorable.

REPORTING—A Vienna correspondent, however, reports what seems like an extremely inept performance by the operators of this propaganda agency in Austria, where the people still look to us for "liberation" from the Russians.

During the fatal Austrian floods several weeks ago, American and Russian soldiers cooperated in rebuilding dikes and rescuing beleaguered natives. It is, perhaps, the first time that they joined hands since they celebrated the death and defeat of Hitler.

CRITICISM—Every newspaper in the world front-paged this picture of Russo-American humanitarianism, with two exceptions. One was the Malenkov organ, Pravda, in Moscow, and the other was the Vienna newspaper published and sponsored by the Voice of America. The editors of the latter were apparently afraid that Sen. Joe McCarthy would accuse them of "fraternizing with the Commies," and drag them before his committee.

The writer's personal reaction, based on consultation with every body and anybody qualified to comment, is that the Voice of America and the Point Four agency (Point Four is now surveying Egypt's industrial and agricultural possibilities) are doing as good a job as can be expected under heavy handicaps. It takes years to re-educate or rebuild these ancient lands.

TOURIST POLICE—The Egyptian government has a system and service of hospitality for foreign tourists which the United States might well duplicate. It is known as the "Tourist Police Force," and it has increased tremendously under the Naguib-Nasser revolutionary regime, which invites overseas visitors and claims.

The Tourist Police's sole function is to make travel and life in Egypt easy and pleasant for outsiders. They act as guides, nurses, advisers on customs and currency, and they will even take an American to shop for the purchase of unique Egyptian goods, which may be mainly costume jewelry.

They wear spotless white uniforms, all 167 of them. The majority are officers, selected for their personalities and education. These Egyptians speak French and English.

Lioness Club Enjoys Annual Summer Event

The regular meeting of the Lioness Club was combined with the annual swimming party and buffet supper at the beautiful country home of Mrs. Ray French on the Circleville Road, Tuesday in the late afternoon and evening.

During the afternoon, hilarious contests added to the pleasures and were conducted by Mrs. Wayne Bower, who presented awards to Mrs. Eddie McCoy, Mrs. Emerson Marting, Mrs. Joseph M. Herbert, Mrs. Joe White, Mrs. John Richards, Mrs. Richard Gillen, Mrs. Lawrence Grim and Mrs. Louis Ulen.

The tempting picnic viands were served buffet from a table on the patio overlooking the pool, and a delightful hour around small tables was enjoyed.

The brief business session later was presided over by Lioness Vice President Mrs. Charles Reinke, and it was announced that the annual benefit bridge would be held September 29.

Mrs. Elmer Reed, chairman of the transportation committee, reported that several children had been taken to Columbus, which carried out the eyesight project of the club.

The remainder of the evening was spent in playing bridge and euchre on the cool and inviting patio.

Guests included were Mrs. Loren D. Hynes, Mrs. David Sloan, Miss Charlyn Reinke, Mrs. John Bath and Mrs. Louis Ulen of St. Louis, Missouri.

Assisting Mrs. French in the hospitalities were Mrs. Eddie Kirk, Mrs. Paul Rodenfels and Mrs. Wayne Bower.

Home Wedding Unites Couple In Marriage

A lovely wedding beautiful in its simplicity, was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Sharrett, in Jeffersonville, Sunday, August 1, when their daughter Shirley, exchanged vows in a ceremony with Mr. Edwin D. Straley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Straley, also of Jeffersonville.

Rev. Norman Newman officiated at the double ring ceremony, as the hands of the clock approached three in the afternoon, before the mantel in the living room, banked with tall vases of white gladioli, snapdragons and greenery flanked with single white candles in tall candlesticks.

Miss Barbara Janney of Dayton, was maid of honor for the bride, and the bridegroom's father served as best man.

Miss Sharrett, given in marriage by her father, chose for her marriage, a white brocade lace street length dress, fashioned with a sleeveless bodice along princess lines and a full skirt worn with a white lace picture hat.

Her other accessories were of white, and her shower bouquet was of white dwarf lilies, accented with ivy and hyacinths, from which knotted satin streamers cascaded.

Miss Janney was wearing a pink nylon dotted Swiss street length dress, with accessories of white and gold, and her hand bouquet was of pink and white carnations.

Mrs. Sharrett selected for her daughter's wedding, a blue and white summer silk dress, with accessories of blue and white, and Mrs. Straley wore a pink nylon sheer dress, with white accessories. Both mothers had corsages of pink roses and white carnations.

A reception for the bridal party and invited wedding guests, which was confined to the immediate families, was held at the home immediately following the wedding and the bride's table in the dining room was decorated with lovely summer flowers and centered with a tiered wedding cake, topped with the traditional bride and groom and a crystal punch bowl was at the end of the table.

Hostesses for the reception were Mrs. Bill Wright of Springfield and the attendant, Miss Janney.

Later the couple left on a short wedding trip and the bride was wearing the brief lace Spencer jacket matching her wedding dress.

The bride, a graduate of Jeffersonville High School, attended Otterbein College, Westerville and is now a student at Miami Valley Hospital, Dayton, in the School of X-ray Technology.

The bridegroom, also a graduate of Jeffersonville High School, is employed at the Economy Savings and Loan Company in Dayton, where they have established their home.

Picnic Supper Proceeds Meeting Of Class

The regular monthly meeting of the Loyal Berean Class of the South Side Church was held at Washington Park, Tuesday evening.

The meeting was preceded with a bountiful picnic supper served in the shelter house of the park. Following the congenial hour around the tables, Mr. Howard Brooks presided at the business session.

A bulletin board on the church lawn, remodeling the basement and the radio broadcast were the class projects which were reported upon.

Mrs. Charles Hooks was devotional leader and led in the singing of several hymns, and also introduced the Misses Judy Brooks and Sally Ann Deering, who sang a duet, "Have You Talked to the Lord in Prayer?" closing with prayers by Mr. Kenneth Thomas and Mr. David Meyer.

Following the meeting informal visiting was enjoyed by 48 members and guests present.

New Idle Pay Claims Increase

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reports there were 13,374 new claimants for unemployment compensation for the week ended July 31 compared to 12,877 the previous week.

Claimants unemployed one week or more were listed at 93,511 for the week ended July 31 compared to 96,572 the previous week. The total does not include those workers who still may be unemployed after exhausting their maximum unemployment compensation pay.

Elderly Retired Persons May Escape Income Taxes

Editor's Note: Following is another in a series of articles concerning the new income tax law and how it can affect you.

By CHARLES F. BARRETT
WASHINGTON (AP)—Most elderly retired persons probably won't have to pay any federal income tax from now on.

That is one of the far-reaching effects of the giant tax revision bill just passed by Congress. Some of its biggest benefits will go to retired persons.

When you're 65 or over, the law already permits you to exempt $1,200 of your income from taxes. If you're married and file a joint return, the exemption is $2,400.

From now on, in many cases, retired persons will be permitted in effect to deduct an additional $1,200 of retirement income. That would be a tax cut of $240. If both husband and wife have retirement income, they can get an additional $2,400 deduction, or a $480 tax cut.

Retirement income is defined as income from pensions, annuities, interest, rent and dividends.

With other standard deductions, the new provisions boil down to this:

If you and your wife both have retirement income, you can get up to $5,333 a year without paying taxes; if only one of you has income, you can get $4,000 tax free; if you're a retired single person, you can get $2,666 without paying any tax.

Experts believe these cutoff figures will cover most retired persons, except a few in upper income brackets.

They estimate the new bill will give tax cuts to almost two million taxpayers, totaling about 141 million dollars the first year. The number to benefit, and the revenue reduction, will increase later as millions more retire.

Technically, the new provision works like this, if you qualify:

You figure your tax bill just as in the past, taking all regular exemptions and deductions. Then you apply the first bracket tax rate (now 20 per cent) to your retirement income, up to $1,200. Next you subtract that figure, say $240, directly from the tax payment you otherwise would make.

But there's one important limitation. If you get income that is already tax free—as from social security, railroad retirement, military or veterans' pensions—you must subtract this from your $1,200 retirement income before you figure your tax credit. In other words, you can't exclude the same income twice. For example, if you get $700 a year from social security, you could count only $500 of other retirement income; and you would get a new tax cut of only $100. However, you don't have to subtract military or veterans' disability payments from your retirement income.

And there are four important requirements to meet before you qualify for the new benefit.

First, most persons must be 65 or over. But if you retire under a public pension system—if you're a retired schoolteacher, policeman or other federal, state or local government worker—you can subtract 20 per cent of your income from that system even before you are 65. But you can't count other retirement income until you are 65 or over.

Second, to be counted as a retired person and get the full benefit, you must make $900 or less from work. Any earned income above $900 must be subtracted from your $1,200 retirement income before figuring your tax credit. So if you make $2,100 or more from work, you are not considered to have retired and you get no benefit. But at age 75 or over, you can get the full benefit regardless of your earnings.

Third, to qualify, you also must have made as much as $600 a year in earned income, for any 10 years before you retire. The theory is that the benefit should go only to persons retiring from active work. But note that you don't have to earn $600 for the 10 years immediately before your retirement. You can count any 10 years—even those long before you retire—and they don't have to be consecutive. A widow can qualify under this so long as her husband did.

Fourth, you can't get this benefit if you use the short-form tax return, under which you merely list your income and exemptions and take your tax from the table on the back of the return. Only taxpayers with $5,000 or less income may use this return.

Singing Student Irks Opera Boss

BOSTON (AP)—Mona Lisa Taft, 18, a student of voice, has learned that making day and night telephone calls to an impresario is no way to impress him.

Superior Court Judge Edward J. Voke placed the girl on probation yesterday after she promised not to call Boris Goldovsky any more. The girl said she was seeking a singing part from Goldovsky, head of the New England Opera Theatre.

New Post Taken By Prin. Titus

Former W.H.S. Head In Hamilton County

E. Wayne Titus, who resigned as principal of Washington C. H. High School about two months ago, is now the principal of Anderson High School in Hamilton County.

He announced that he had accepted the position there in a letter just before he left here to take over his new office.

Anderson High School is just outside the city limits of Cincinnati; the address is 7537 Beechmont Avenue, Cincinnati 30, O.

Prin. Titus' letter said his family would join him there as soon as arrangements for their new home can be completed. He added that this probably would be the middle of August.

Following the usual reports twenty-one members responded to roll call, and a new project adopted by the society was the help of the Sue Bennett Home in Kentucky.

It was also decided to conduct a study school during October, and the meeting was closed with the reading of the poem, "He Giveth Day" by Whittier.

During the social hour, Mrs. McArthur was assisted by Mrs. Desa Dorn and Mrs. Sadie LeBeau in the serving of a summer refreshment course.

The September meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Freddie Le Beau.

COLUMBUS (AP)—The construction firm of Morris and Chatten of Washington C. H. at $102,816 today was the apparent low bidder for building a dormitory for children of intermediate ages at the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors Orphans' home, Xenia.

Battle for Control of Congress Gets Under Way Early This Year

By HENRY C. NICHOLAS
WASHINGTON — The advance guards of professional politicians of the Republican and Democratic parties are roaming over the countryside, surveying the situation, checking the advanced reports, accepting every invitation they can wangle to speak at luncheons and heartily greeting voters at barbecues and "coffee hours" arranged by local representatives.

The congressional battle for 1954 has begun and seldom before in a non-presidential year has the battle for votes aroused such national interest. Although the 83rd Congress is still in session, members of Congress, particularly those up for re-election and whose political lives are at stake, are using every excuse to leave Washington and return home to help in mending their political fences.

The voters in November will elect many more senators than the usual one-third of the Senate, due to the resignation of Vice-President Richard Nixon, and the many deaths which have occurred since 1948. All 438 members of the House of Representatives are up for election.

WHAT WILL happen if President Eisenhower loses control of the Congress to the Democrats? It would mean a sharp decline in his great prestige and power here and abroad. Would this mean that President Eisenhower would then decide to refuse to run for re-election in 1956? His close White House Assistant, Sherman Adams, has so stated to newsmen.

What effect will this unparalleled and uncontradicted White House statement have on the voters? Washington politicians agree that only time will tell whether this was a shrewd or a bad political maneuver.

What many regard as even more important is that a Democratic victory would mean a shift in the actual operation of the lawmaking branch of the government from the Atlantic seaboard and the Midwest to the Deep South and the Far West. The Deep South, incidentally, would be the greatest beneficiary from this shift in political power.

THE WINNER in the November election will select the 15 Senate and 19 House standing committee chairmanships. The chairmen of these all-powerful standing committees are selected in accordance with the strict seniority tradition of Congress.

If the recent Army-McCarthy hearings served no other purpose it did reveal to the nation the great political power possessed by these chairmen.

Apparently it came as a surprise to many that these chairmen, in having the right of subpoena power, possessed a power not given to either the President or any department of administration.

The chairmen of these standing committees have a controlling influence over all legislation as all bills introduced are first referred to one of these committees, which decides whether the bill shall be pigeonholed or returned to the floor for a vote.

IT CAN BE said that the dominant power of Congress largely rests, not with its elected members, but with the chairmen of the all-powerful standing committees.

Sharp shifts in regional dominance over coveted chairmanships will result if the Democrats win control of Congress in November. Of the 15 standing committees in the Senate, seven would be headed by southerners and five by westerners. This would leave slim pickings by the eastern and midwest Democrats.

Possibly the greatest popular interest is in the fate of Senator Joseph McCarthy (R) of Wisconsin. He would be succeeded as chairman of the government operations committee by Senator John L. McClellan (D) of Arkansas, who is up for re-election.

Should Senator McClellan lose the chairmanship would then go to Senator Herbert Humphrey (D) of Minnesota. The third Democrat in line, should Humphrey fail of election, would be Senator Jackson of Washington.

AT THIS POINT the south would move in force. Louisiana's Senator Allen J. Ellender (D) would be the head of the Senate agriculture body, Georgia Senator Richard B. Russell (D), head of the armed services committee; South Carolina's Senator Burnet R. Maybank (D), head of the banking and currency group; Senator Walter F. George (D), Georgia, the head of either finance or foreign relations, and Senator Olin D. Johnston (D), South Carolina, head of the post office and civil service committee.

The westerners — Senator Carl Hayden (D), Arizona; Senator Pat McCarran (D), Nevada; Senator Dennis Chavez (D), New Mexico; Senator Warren O. Magnuson (D), Washington — in a Democrat-controlled Senate would take over the top commands of the appropriations committee, judiciary, interior, labor and welfare, public works and interstate and foreign commerce committees.

AS FAR as the eastern seaboard and the Midwest is concerned this leaves for them the nationally unimportant District of Columbia committee, the rules committee, and the foreign relations committee, should Senator George decide not to want it himself.

Much the same shift in political power will result in the House of Representatives, should the Democrats gain control by a majority as small as one. Out of the 19 standing committees, nine will be headed by southerners and four from the border states of Tennessee and Kentucky. Only three chairmanships will go to easterners.

All of which means that Texas, which gave President Eisenhower its electoral vote in 1952, will be running the show on Capitol Hill if the Democrats are victorious in November.

Rep. Sam Rayburn (D), Texas, will be running the House and Senator Lyndon B. Johnson (D), Texas, will be running the Senate.

Dynamite Kid's Parents Released

YOUNGSTOWN — The parents of the so-called "Dynamite Kid" were released by police yesterday after three days of questioning about the whereabouts of their son.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Carney insisted they have not seen their son, Michael, 19, wanted in a theater robbery. The fugitive youth gets his nickname from a report that he wears dynamite about his chest and has boasted he will blow up himself and anyone who tries to arrest him.

New Aids Coming

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower has signed a bill authorizing the appointment of two additional assistant secretaries each for the Army, Navy and Air Force. This would give each of the departments four assistant secretaries instead of two.

Nagging Backache Sleepless Nights

Often Due to Kidney Slow-down

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, headaches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Prices of Meat Slightly Lower

Vegetable Market Is Reasonable Too

By The Associated Press

Your Sunday dinner should cost you less money this week; prices on many meats will be lower than a fine selection of vegetables at moderate prices.

Ribs of beef will be a favorite weekend special at prices two to eight cents below those of a week ago. Legs of lamb will be cheaper in many sections of the country, with reductions ranging to eight cents a pound.

Even the exclusive pork chop will be cheaper. One large chain expects to trim prices on this item all across the country, offering center cut chops at anywhere from three to 20 cents a pound below week-ago levels. Loins of pork will be a weekend feature here and there, too.

Broilers and fryers will be advertised by a good number of stores, with reductions running around two cents a pound. Some markets will emphasize over-ready turkeys.

You may also find lower prices in your market on such items as chuck roast, steaks, lamb chops, ground beef, legs and rumps of veal, beef liver, and bacon.

Eggs are going to be cheaper, too. The price of a dozen large Grade A whites will be a couple of cents lower than last week in numerous outlets.

Vegetables grown in nearby areas again head the list of good buys in produce. Among them are cabbage, cucumbers, beans, celery, radishes and green onions. Produce men also recommend peppers, onions, potatoes, lettuce, eggplant, topped carrots and bunched beets.

Many stores are featuring cantaloupes and honeydew melons. Fruit specialists say limes continue on the bargain counter. Peaches are plentiful and heavier supplies of Bartlett pears from California have brought a reduction in prices on that fruit.

A little lower at wholesale this week were grapefruit, cherries, plums, nectarines and apricots.

Wolf Whistle Brings 'Wolf'

PASADENA, Calif. — Miss Olga Maltberger, 50, always uses the traditional wolf's whistle when she calls her cat. But this time, she told police yesterday, she got a wolf.

When he ventured into her yard she ordered him away, threatening to call the law. A neighbor did put in a prowler report, and the man fled before a squar car arrived.

TOLEDO, Ohio — Delmar R. Willingham, 38-year-old painter, won 50 cents yesterday but lost his life. He leaped from the Anthony Wayne bridge into the Maumee River on a bet and drowned. Willingham lost a game of pool and then two games of shuffleboard to a drinking companion.

Lemons and western apples went up a bit.

Township Trustee Powers Outlined

COLUMBUS — Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill has ruled that township trustees may condemn land for parks, but not as sites for fire stations or road equipment buildings.

The opinion held further that general township funds may be used to buy sites for fire stations and road equipment buildings.

Township trustees may submit to voters in one proposal a bond issue of not more than $20,000 to build a fire station and buy fire fighting equipment.

Where separate bond issues have been voted to erect a fire station single wall may separate adjoining structures, and

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — A long constitutional court fight lies ahead if Congress passes — and there's a chance now it will — a law to force Fifth Amendment witnesses to testify by prosecuting them.

The fight can be made two ways: (1) On whether Congress can pass a law to get around the Constitution's Fifth Amendment and (2) whether Congress can pass a law guaranteeing a man immunity in both federal and state courts.

The Senate passed an immunity bill in 1953. The House passed a different one yesterday. The Senate may accept the House bill, junking its own. Then President Eisenhower could sign the bill into law.

This is the story step by step: The Fifth Amendment says a man can't be compelled to give testimony which might incriminate him. Long ago Congress had trouble making some witnesses talk before its committees. So in 1857 it passed a law which still stands. It says:

"No testimony given by a witness before a congressional committee shall be used as evidence in any criminal proceedings against him in any court." This law sounded more sweeping than it is.

The government can't use such a witness' actual words against him if it wants to try him later for some crime related to his testimony, but it can use his testimony as a lead for gathering evidence on which it can try him.

And, so far as is known, if the testimony of a congressional witness involved a state crime, the state where it occurred could use his testimony as a lead for fathering evidence on which to try him in a state court.

One example of that was Frank Erickson, who admitted to a Senate committee he was a New York gambler. New York police promptly raided his offices. He was convicted and jailed in New York.

But a state can't use a congressional witness' actual words — any more than the government can — to bring him to trial. The Supreme Court ruled on that this year in the case of a Marylander who admitted to the Kefauver Committee he was a gambler. His testimony was used against him later in a Maryland court and he was convicted. The high court threw out the conviction.

In 1940 Congress passed a law, called the Smith Act, which makes it a crime to teach or advocate forcible overthrow of the government. The government has tried and convicted a number of Communist leaders under that act. It will try more.

So a witness before a congressional committee, asked about his Communist activities, can argue: "It is not a crime to be a Communist. But what I say here may provide the government with a lead to try me under the Smith Act. Therefore, I stand on the Fifth Amendment and refuse to answer since it might incriminate me."

Hundreds of witnesses have used the Fifth Amendment. And the Supreme Court itself has said they had a right to if they were asked questions about Communist activities. Why? The Supreme Court gave its reason Dec. 11, 1950, in the case of Mrs. Patricia Blau.

In 1948 she pleaded the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer a Denver federal grand jury's questions about Communist activities in Colorado. She was tried and jailed for one year for contempt of court and appealed to the Supreme Court.

She was within her constitutional rights in keeping quiet, the court said, because her testimony might lead to her incrimination later under the Smith Act. Mrs. Patricia Blau — the FBI says it is the same one — was one of seven persons arrested earlier this week on charges of violating the Smith Act.

The House and Senate, upon the urging of Atty. Gen. Brownell, have approved differing bills to get around the Fifth Amendment and force witnesses to talk.

Generally, this is what the House bill would do: If a witness were asked about Communist activities and pleaded the Fifth Amendment, he could be promised immunity from prosecution for any crime related to his testimony. If he still refused, pleading the Fifth Amendment, he could be tried for contempt of Congress or a federal court and, if convicted, jailed.

But the first witness who spurns immunity and lands in jail for contempt will certainly appeal to the Supreme Court, raising this question: Isn't Congress violating the Constitution when it passes a law to deprive a man of the Fifth Amendment's protection? The government would argue that he has been guaranteed immunity to prosecution and therefore lost no right.

Halliday Given Cruiser Contract

CITY MANAGER James F. Parkinson Wednesday noon opened bids on a new police cruiser, and after going over the bids, awarded the contract to Carroll Halliday for a Ford police special cruiser, of 160 horse power, heavy duty brakes, etc.

Halliday's bid was $983.49 and take the present Ford cruiser on the deal. The new cruiser will be delivered soon.

Brandenburg Motor Sales submitted a trade-in bid on a Chevrolet cruiser, at $1,098.

Victor Mature Gets Suspension

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Victor Mature's studio has suspended him and replaced him in the cast of a picture for failure to appear for wardrobe tests.

The suspension was ordered yesterday by 20th Century-Fox and was followed immediately by the assignment of Richard Egan to Mature's role in "Untamed," with Tyrone Power and Susan Hayward. Mature was reported golfing at Del Mar.

Starling-Shooter Finds Gas Well

BELLEVUE, Ohio (AP) — With nary a starling to show for his efforts, James Welch, a retired railroad conductor, paid a fine of $25 and costs of $6.80 before Judge J. Allen Vickery yesterday.

It seems Welch was trying to get the starlings out of the trees in front of his home. His efforts with a shotgun violated an ordin-

Letters To Editor

Washington, C. H., Ohio
Aug. 4, 1954

Editor, Record-Herald

Dear Sir:

The Oppenheimer decision of the AEC has been, and will continue to be, loudly resented by most self-styled liberal and intellectual circles, because it constitutes another proof that their influence is waning. Physicist H. D. Smyth, a dissenter from the majority opinion of the Commission, included in his report these significant words: "In these times, failure to employ a man of great talents may impair the strength and power of this country."

Behind those words is a whole philosophy of life which has originated in the modern inability to distinguish between true science and wisdom. Among superficially educated people who have ventured beyond their capacity into philosophy and science as presented by such vulgarians as H. G. Wells, Lancelot Hogben, Hayakawa and Stuart Chase, it is accepted as a revealed truth that nothing exists except what can be pushed, prodded, tasted or measured. There is a kind of immediate appeal which such an adolescent viewpoint has for unreflective men. The evident truth that there are aspects of nature which can be measured and controlled leads fools to the instant conclusion that anything which is not measurable by science must be either a traditional superstition, like God, or a glandular disturbance, like love.

Unfortunately, many scientists, who are expert in their field, share this attitude, and so propound materialistic creeds in which they dogmatically assert that all ethical values and rational truths are meaningless within a scientific framework (which is true), and are therefore meaningless in themselves (which is false). Such a philosophy leads men to think exclusively in terms of physical power, and leads inevitably to totalitarianism. This is true because when people cease to believe in the real truth of moral and intellectual standards, they cease to abide by them in their behavior, except ance about shooting in the city without a permit.

What aroused the local police was the fact his blast cut through a high tension wire. This fell on two distribution wires of the city's electrical system, and the whole town of 8,000 persons was blacked out Monday night for four hours.

when it is convenient for them to do so, or because they fear the police. Sometimes they appeal to a biological "optimism," and pretend that human nature is naturally law-abiding and ethical, but one wonders what they can mean by such a statement, seeing that they deny that terms like law and ethics are meaningful, while all experience is against the notion.

At any rate, Physicist Smyth reflects that view admirably. He cannot see what connection there is between Oppenheimer's character and his ability as a physicist. He tacitly admits that nothing exists except physical force, and that we therefore need Oppenheimer because he is an expert in the secrets of such force. But, God be praised, the majority of the Commission saw that the decision was an ethical one. Communism is evil in itself. It would be evil even if it brought the materialistic paradise it promises, for it is based on a denial of intrinsic human worth. It treats men as scientists treat animals, and it is not surprising that many scientists have a weak place in their defense against it, for there is nothing in science itself which can object to using men as experimental fodder: only in non-scientific disciplines such as philosophy and religion, can we ground our objections. The word "science" is honorable, for it means knowledge, and it is tragic that unthinking men have come to feel that only in natural science do we have true knowledge, and that every other kind of conclusion must be an emotional prejudice or a baseless fancy. By far the most important concerns of human life lie wholly outside the field of natural science, not because it is now "undeveloped," but because it is incapable, by definition, of settling such issues. To decide that they are therefore meaningless, or incapable of being known certainly by reason, is like concluding that no music exists because you have agreed to believe in nothing but what is visible to the eye. But people who have ears know better, and people who have minds which have not been intimidated by pseudo-scientific nonsense, know that they have rational insight into basic principles which are true under all conditions, and from which they can derive philosophical and religious certainty.

One of these certainties is that you cannot fight a good cause by bad means without destroying the good. If we believe, as we pretend to, that morality is part of the law of nature, as well as physical force, then we cannot use in our cause men who subscribe only to physical force. But if we are willing to say "You can't stop the Communists by talk about morality," then we had better take stock of ourselves: behind that statement lies the basic principle of Communism, and he who really believes it is already a victim of the evil he supposes he is fighting. That is why Communists can afford to laugh at us sardonically. The more feverishly we rely on material strength alone, or on a hypocritically attenuated mock-idealism, the more firmly we become entangled in the Communists' web and demonstrate the truth of their way of life. If morality is something, then it does make a difference, a real difference in the physical struggle itself. If it does not make a real difference, then it is nothing, and it is we, not the Communists, who are fools.

Stockholders Happy Over New Tax Deal

7 Million To Benefit
By Latest Change In Federal Revenue Law

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Some seven million owners of corporate stocks are extra happy today over tax relief on dividends. That's because dividend payments this year are riding 7.5 per cent higher than a year ago.

And prospects are good for generous divvying-up with the share owners in the rest of the year.

Percentage gains in dividends are greater than the rise in corporate earnings. And they run counter to the general drop in industrial activity.

The new tax law may help stockholders to get a still higher percentage of corporate gross earnings. Tax relief will allow many corporations to bring down a greater percentage of their gross earnings to net profits after taxes.

Since, henceforth, the shareholder won't have to report all of his dividends as taxable income, April 15 will be a happier day for him. And the amount involved isn't small.

The Office of Business Economics of the Department of Commerce reports that corporations paid out about 4 1/2 billions of dollars in dividends in the first six months of 1954. In the same period of 1953, a time of booming industrial activity, they paid less than four billions.

Not all stockholders have gained. Some have seen smaller dividend checks, or none at all. Companies cutting payments are scattered through most industries. But the federal agency reports that the industrial groups which have paid less as a whole are: Textiles, leather, non-ferrous metals, and automobiles.

To these the New York Stock Exchange, in its monthly magazine out today, adds the following from stocks listed with it: Farm machinery, American-owned companies operating abroad, and foreign stocks listed on the exchange.

For its 1,070 listed common stock issues as a whole, the exchange reports the gain this year in dividends paid out was 7.5 per cent. It says 924 of the common stocks paid dividends, with 520 shelling out the same amount as last year. But 314 paid more than a year ago, and only 125 paid less. The 125 are scattered through all 27 of the categories in which it lists its stocks.

Biggest percentage gain in amounts paid, the exchange reports, was in the aircraft industry, up 77 per cent. Largest dollar volume was by the utilities—104 of their common stocks paying a total of 561 1/2 million dollars, a gain of 11 per cent. A close second was the 473 million total paid to share owners by only 49 oil and natural gas issues.

Wall street is betting on dividend payments increasing still more. First half earnings for industry as a whole pulled a shade ahead of the 1953 period.

Wall Street hopes a golden flow of dividends, plus tax relief, will

Famous G-Man Quitting Service

CINCINNATI (AP)—Earl J. Connelley, who worked on some of the FBI's biggest kidnaping cases, has retired from the service after 34 years. He had been an assistant to FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover since 1940.

In 1935, he led agents on a daylight raid of the Florida hideout of Kate (Ma) Barker and her son, Fred, who were sought for the kidnaping of a St. Paul banker. He also was in charge of the capture of eight German saboteurs at the last war.

Susan Hayward Finds New Troubles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A legal maneuver to block Susan Hayward's divorce suit has been instituted by counsel for her husband, actor Jess Barker.

A petition of recrimination was filed yesterday by Barker's attorney, S. S. Hahn, with the judge who has the divorce case under submission. Hahn said he resorted to the little-used petition because Barker did not want to file a cross-complaint for divorce.

"He wants her back," the lawyer explained. "He wants her divorce denied on the grounds that she did things to him just as bad as the things she says he did to her."

Miss Hayward has said Barker tossed her into the swimming pool and paddled her. He said she provoked these acts by "unwifely behavior" that included burning him with a cigarette.

7th District Dems Seeking New Candidate

DAYTON (AP)—Ohio Democrats had new troubles today after their second congressional candidate withdrew from the November race.

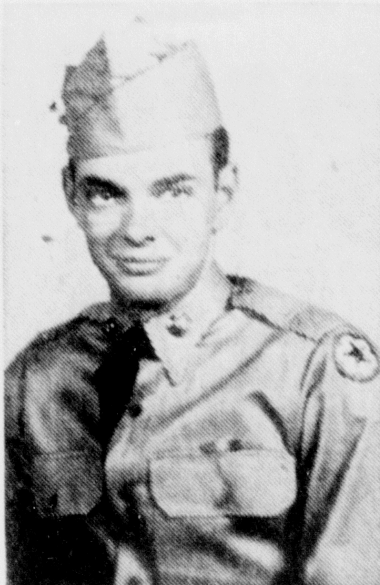

Another pinch-hitter will have to be named to replace Charles West, 59, of Lebanon. He withdrew yesterday as Democratic candidate from Ohio's 7th District, citing ill health.

Election ballots are certified Aug. 19.

West's announcement came from a hospital here where he has been under treatment since July 22 and has undergone minor surgery. He said he acted on advice of physicians.

West's withdrawal only 16 days before the deadline for certification of Ohio election ballots, sent party leaders in the 7th District scrambling for a successor.

Chairmen and secretaries of the party's county central committees in the eight-county district scheduled a meeting for Friday in Springfield to name a replacement. Only last week the Democrats named a replacement for Rep. Robert T. Secrest of Senecaville as Democratic nominee for the 15th District. Secrest, considered a snoo-in for re-election, withdrew after his appointment to the Federal Trade Commission by President Eisenhower.

Secrest, a veteran congressman from an otherwise Republican district, was succeeded by Max Lewis Underwood, New Lexington attorney. It is Underwood's first attempt to win public office. Party leaders must name successors to nominees who withdraw after primary elections.

West, a congressman and White House adviser during the Roosevelt administration, would have been opposed in the 7th District by the incumbent, Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester. The district includes Clinton, Warren, Logan, Union, Champaign, Clark, Madison and Greene counties.

Republican nominee in the 15th district is John E. Henderson, Cambridge attorney. That district includes Muskingum, Guernsey, Perry, Morgan, Noble, Washington and Monroe counties.

Tractor Wheel Frightens Lad

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa (AP)—"I didn't feel so good. I was awfully scared."

That is what eight-year-old James C. O'Shea of Council Bluffs had to say about having a wheel of a 2,500 pound tractor parked on his chest.

James said it happened when his pants leg caught in the sprocket chain of his bicycle.

"I took one foot off the bike and tried to get my pants loose," James related. The next thing he knew he was off the bike and under the tractor.

Tractor driver E. T. Jackson, 59, said James skidded into the tractor and when Jackson stopped it the boy was under a wheel. His injuries were but bruises.

Curt Koons Takes Post Of Mt. Sterling Coach

Curt Koons, who resigned two years ago as assistant football and basketball coach under Fred Jacoby as head track coach of Washington C. H. High School, is going to be the new basketball coach at Mt. Sterling High School.

Announcement of his appointment last week was made by the school board.

He makes the third member of the Washington C. H. High School coaching staff to go to Mt. Sterling.

Stephen Lewis was the head basketball coach here for three years until he resigned in 1949 to become the superintendent of the Mt. Sterling schools. He resigned that position last spring, however, to become the executive secretary of the statewide organization of non-teaching school employees.

After Coach Lewis went to Mt. Sterling, Ron Guinn, who has been the assistant WHS basketball coach, went to Mt. Sterling as the head football and basketball coach.

When Coach Fred Pierson resigned as athletic director here three years ago to take a similar position at Marietta, he put Coach Guinn in as his first assistant along with Paul Grimm, a former WHS Lion and Wittenburg College football star.

Coach Pierson and Coach Guinn are still at Marietta, but Coach Grimm is now in the Army.

AFTER COACH Koon resigned his place here, he went to his former home in Columbus and took a position with the North American Aviation Co. Later he took a position with the firm of Sharpe & Dohme as a contract drug salesman.

He had told friends here, when back for infrequent visits, that he had learned through experience that he liked school teaching and coaching and expected to get back into the profession eventually.

Reports from Mt. Sterling are that Koons will be the head basketball coach and the assistant foot-

Robin Roberts Near His 5th 20-Win Year

Phillies Strong Boy Chalks Up 16th As Milwaukee Falterers

By The Associated Press

Robin Roberts is about ready to knock out that 20-game door again. If he gets inside, he will be the first to do it five seasons in a row since Carl Hubbell was the meal ticket of the New York Giants.

The Philadelphia strong boy has been coasting along most of the year on the fringe of the spotlight, yielding the center of the stage to the exciting pennant races. But he's been winning just the same.

When he handcuffed Milwaukee on five hits last night for a 2-1 triumph, he ran his victory total to 16 against 9 losses. Two seasons ago when he won an amazing 28, exactly a dozen of the victories came after Aug. 4.

Roberts isn't quite up to his pace of last year when he won his 19th game on Aug. 4. But the righthander still remembers with dread the rough going he encountered once he reached 20 in 1953. He ran his record to 20-8 on Aug. 12 but staggered through the last seven weeks of the season with only three more victories.

Hubbell won more than 20 each year from 1933 through 1937. Roberts started his 20-game string in 1950 with a 20-11 mark. He followed with 21-15 in 1951, 28-7 in 1952 and 23-16 last year. Hubbell won 115 games in his five 20-game seasons. Roberts needs 23 triumphs this season to equal that total.

Roberts shares honors with Johnny Antonelli of the Giants as the winningest pitcher in the majors this season. He and Harvey Haddix of St. Louis lead in strikeouts with 130 each and his amazing total of only 30 bases on balls in 228 innings is by far the best in the National League.

Roberts struck out nine and walked one in beating the Braves last night. Bob Morgan's bases-empty homer in the third gave the control artist the run he needed to win after both sides had scored in the first.

The victory moved the Phils into fourth place, half a game ahead of the St. Louis Cardinals who bowed 8-7 to Brooklyn. The Giants shaded Chicago 4-3 in 11 innings and Pittsburgh beat Cincinnati 4-3.

Cleveland evened its current series with the New York Yankees with a 5-2 triumph. Chicago edged Boston 6-5 in 10 innings. Detroit defeated Washington 6-2 and Philadelphia and Baltimore swapped last place as the Athletics whipped the Orioles 6-4.

Cleveland moved 2½ games ahead of the Yankees in the American League. New York stayed five games in front of Brooklyn in the National.

The Giants beat Chicago on an 11th inning single by Hank Thompson that brought in Wes Westrum from second base after two were out. Westrum's lead and a sacrifice by winner Don Liddle set up the run which ran the New Yorkers' winning streak to six.

In Brooklyn the Cardinals grabbed a 7-6 lead with three runs in the ninth only to have the Dodgers put it out on Jackie Robinson's homer with Jim Gilliam on base in the last of the ninth.

Lame, Game Newport Dream Wins Hambletonian Handily

GOSHEN, N.Y. — Newport Dream has caused Del Cameron a lot of lost sleep in recent months, but the determined little harness racing driver must have laid his head on the pillow with a broad smile last night.

For with all his aches, pains, bandages and liniments, Newport Dream tossed away the crutches and went out to defeat 15 rivals in the $106,830 Hambletonian yesterday.

Newport Dream has been, and still is lame, with a mystery ailment in the left foreleg, swollen knees on both forelegs, and a swelling in the right hock.

But the 2-year-old champion of 1953 chilled the opposition in two consecutive heats, whirling around Good Time Park's triangular mile in 2:02 4/5 both times to grab off the top prize of $57,581.

A month ago Cameron said it was 50-50 whether he could get the colt ready for the Hambletonian. At winter quarters in Pinehurst, N.C., Newport Dream began showing lameness in the left foreleg during mid-March. Three veterinarians were called in. Nobody could determine whether it was centered in the ankle or shoulder.

Finally they blocked a nerve to try and pinpoint the spot, but that worsened things — an infection developed.

Cameron, who trains for owner Octave Blake, master of the Newport Stock Farm, South Plainfield, N.J., never gave up. He worked day and night on the colt preparing for the big one.

"He's got a heart as big as that bucket of oats," said Cameron.

Newport Dream defeated Princess Rodney, Walnut Hall stud, Donerail, Ky., by three lengths in the first heat yesterday.

In the deciding dash an hour dramatic finish. With two out and one aboard in the last of the ninth Gerry Lynch smashed a Frank Smith pitch into the seats for the winning margin.

The Cleveland Indians turned on Allie Reynolds, one of their former Tribesmen, and handed the veteran his third defeat of the season. Bobby Avila's three-run homer in the third inning gave Bob Lemon the cushion he needed for his 14th victory. When Lemon tired after seven innings, Mike Garcia mopped up.

The Chicago White Sox cut into the National League monopoly on last-gasp triumphs as they downed Boston on Matt Batts' bases-loaded single in the 10th after the Red Sox had come from five runs back in the eighth and ninth innings. Ted Williams drove in three runs with his 19th homer in the eighth. Phil Cavarretta hit a grand slam homer for the White Sox in the first.

Detroit came from behind to whip Washington, scoring three runs in the seventh when Wayne Belard's homer was the big blow. The Athletics pounded three Baltimore pitchers for 14 hits including three by Pete Suder and a two-run homer by Don Bollweg.

JC Tennis Meet Stresses Doubles

SPRINGFIELD — Rain twice interrupted matches in the first annual Junior Chamber of Commerce National Tennis Tournament yesterday, but it did not prevent favorites from advancing. Seeded teams in both boys and junior divisions moved into the third round in the doubles competition.

Top-seeded Myron Franks of Los Angeles and Jon Douglas of Santa Monica, Calif., defeated Max Brown and Jack Tarr of London, Ky., 6-6, 7-5, 6-4, then ousted Richard Leslie, Park Ridge, Ill., and Neil Drury, East St. Louis, Ill., 6-1, 6-1.

In boys doubles, Bob Delgado and Joe Cowley of Los Angeles whipped Fred McCaughen, Cross-ett, Ark., and Jerry Wilbourn, Little Rock, Ark., 6-0, 6-0.

Hostesses for next week's Ladies Day are Mrs. Bill Junk and Mrs. George Gray.

Ohio Weekend Fishing Due To Be Fair

COLUMBUS — Prospects for Ohio fishermen this weekend are fair, the Ohio division of wildlife reports.

The sectional outlook: Northwestern — Catfish and crappies hitting at Lake St. Marys, and they are expected to continue hitting over the weekend. Lake is clear and a little below normal level. Walleyes and an occasional catch of white bass are reported from Lake Erie.

Southeastern — Fishermen have not been having much luck in this area. Some nice catfish are being caught in the Walonding River and Wills Creek in Coshocton County. Several streams are roily.

Southern — Catfishing good this week in Rocky Fork Lake, and expected to continue through weekend. Streams in Franklin County range from roily to muddy. Some smallmouth bass and rock bass are being taken below Griggs Dam in the Scioto River. Stream fishing elsewhere fair, but lake fishing is poor.

Southwestern — This section providing best fishing at present. Good catches reported from Grant Lake with catfish, crappies, bluegills and carp appearing on the stringers. Streams of Butler County offering good smallmouth bass, catfish and carp fishing. Stonelick and Cowan lakes report good catches of catfish, bluegills.

Carter Points To DeMarco Again

CHICAGO — Jimmy Carter, fresh from an unanimous decision over clever Glen Flanagan, figures he's ready to become the first fighter to win the world lightweight championship for the third time.

The durable, 30-year-old New Yorker is scheduled to meet champion Paddy De Marco at San Francisco Sept. 22.

"This fight with Flanagan," said Carter after his convincing, but unsensational, victory before national TV cameras in Chicago Stadium last night, "should help me against De Marco."

He won the title first from Ike Williams in 1951, lost it to Lauro Salas, won it back from Salas and then lost to De Marco in Madison Square Garden last March.

Tribe-Yank Rubber Game Due Tonight

CLEVELAND (AP)—Their modest league lead protected, the Indians move against the New York Yankees tonight in the rubber game of their three-game series here.

Back at two and a half games ahead of their closest rivals, the Indians stand 1-1 in the series and 8-8 for the season against the hard-to-shake New Yorkers.

A three-run blast by Bob Avila leveled the Yankees, 5-2, last night and more than compensated for the two-run lead they grabbed during the first inning.

Avila's homer was his 10th of the season and fourth against the Bronx Bombers.

Rookie Bob Grim, boasting the Yankee's best pitching record with 13-4, makes his first start against the Indians in tonight's contest.

His opponent, burly Early Wynn, seeks his third victory over the Yankees and the 14th of the season, with four losses.

Only three pitchers have hung a trio of defeats on the Gothamites. They are Willard Nixon of Boston, Chicago's Virgil Trucks, and the latest, Cleveland's Bob Lemon, in the event last night.

Lemon made it five in a row and 14 for the season, with five losses, as he held the Yankees to five hits in the seven innings before he tired.

Mike Garcia came in to hurl the last two frames, and yielded only one hit.

The Indians jabbled 11 hits through three Yankee pitchers—Allie Reynolds, who lost his third in 13 decisions, Eddie Lopat and Art Schallcock.

Tallying all their runs in the first inning, the Yanks were shut out for the remainder of the tilt.

Mighty Bayer Draws Eye In Tam Play

CHICAGO (AP)—Mammoth George Bayer, the Paul Bunyan of the links, may never strike it rich in the $205,000 Tam O'Shanter golf jamboree starting today, but he is a pro set apart from the others because of his incredible power.

Colleagues such as Doug Ford, Dutch Harrison, Jim Demaret and Lloyd Mangrum claim that the 240-pound 6-5 1/2 Bayer is the longest hitter in golf history.

The tank-like Bayer was among 36 pros teeing off today in the first round of the All American tour the first phase in promoter George S. May's fabulous extravaganza that runs 10 days and is climaxed by the "World Championships" next week.

The "world" champion receives $50,000 in cash and a $50,000 exhibition contract. The All-American meet is a mere warmup, with a top prize of $3,420.

Bayer, pro at the Glen Head, N. Y., Country Club, is not expected to win, but he is bound to draw attention of the swarming galleries for his feats off the tee.

About 300 pros had to shoot for 60 qualifying spots. Leading the survivors with six-under-par 66s yesterday were four club pros—Tom Burke Jr. of Chicago; Paul McGuire, Wichita; Jay Hebert, Woodmere, N. Y., and Mike Sippula, Ottawa, Ill.

In the meantime, the bigshot players were talking about Bayer's practice round drives. For instance on the 495-yard second hole Bayer's drive was so prodigious he needed only an easy nine iron for his second shot. He had hit a 330-yard green on the carry.

7 Teams Left In Legion Test

COLUMBUS (AP)—Six American Legion junior baseball teams fight it out today while a seventh stands by as the state championships come down the home stretch.

Celina plays Portsmouth, Brookville takes on Lancaster and Akron meets Massillon. Cincinnati's Bentley Post, defending champions, drew a bye.

The field of 14 teams was narrowed to seven yesterday as Columbus, Newark, Marietta and Euclid suffered their second setbacks in the double-elimination tournament. They joined Willoughby, Toledo and Mansfield, eliminated Monday, on the sidelines.

Earle Mack Says A's Set To Move

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Speaking in terms of cold cash, says vice president Earle Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics, "there isn't a chance" of keeping the ball club in Philadelphia.

That was the most forthright statement made yet on the plight of the American League club that is dying from a lack of money, fans and a winning record.

Earle made the statement yesterday in confirming that a $4 1/2 million offer has been made for the A's by a Kansas City syndicate headed by Arnold Johnson of Chicago.

Ancient siege engines threw stones up to 600 pounds in weight.

Yesterday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Wet-Dry Issue Raised at Jeff

4 School Districts
Ask Special Levies

One of the hot issues in the Fayette County elections Nov. 2 will be voting on two "dry" petitions submitted by Jeffersonville citizens. One seeks to prohibit the sale of beer by license-holders in the town. The other is aimed at ending the sale of wine and "hard" liquor.

Deadline for the submission of petitions and requests for levies was Wednesday, 90 days before the election. In addition to the Jeffersonville petitions, four county school boards asked for extensions or increases in school levies.

The Wayne district board will ask voters to approve a levy of 1.6 mills for one year.

Concord district is requesting a five-year levy of 1.6 mills a year. Green district wants a renewal of 2 mills and an increase of 2 mills for three years.

Washington C. H. school district is asking for a renewal of 4.8 mills and an increase of 1.1 mills for five years.

THE JEFFERSONVILLE "dry" petitions required a number of signatures based on the vote there for governor in the last election in 1952. The beer petition required 35 percent of the 409 votes cast for governor, or 144 votes. The petition submitted contains 159 signatures, or 15 more than required.

Harold McLean, clerk of the county Board of Elections, explained that the additional signatures will probably assure that the question will be on the ballot even if some of the signatures should turn out to be invalid.

The petition aimed at ending the sale of spirituous liquors required signatures equal to 15 percent of the 1952 vote for governor, or 61 signatures. The petition was submitted with 183 signatures, making its appearance on the ballot nearly certain, according to McLean.

The spirituous liquor petition contains five questions to go on the ballot.

They are: Should the sale of any intoxicating liquor be permitted in Jeffersonville Township? Of wine by the package? Of wine for consumption on and off the premises where sold? Of spirituous liquors by the glass? Of spirituous liquor by the package?

Two Fire Alarms Thursday Morning

Whether it was due to the storm or some other cause, two restaurants here put in calls to the fire department, one at 5:45 A. M. and the other at 5:50 A. M. Thursday.

The first call was from Bryant's Restaurant and the second from Chooman's Restaurant. In both instances motors had stuck and were smoking. Firemen disconnected the wiring and fire danger was over.

Violent Storms Sweep County

Crops Are Helped
By Heavy Rains

A series of violent electrical storms swept Fayette County and surrounding areas late Wednesday night and early Thursday morning again drenching farm lands and increasing the flow of streams.

In Washington C. H. the official precipitation was 1.44 inches, which added to the .37 of an inch earlier this week, brings to 1.81 inches the total precipitation so far this month.

During the series of violent but short storms, lightning struck hundreds of times in the county, but so far as known no serious damage was done.

The Dayton Power & Light Co. and Ohio Bell Telephone Co. reported some storm damage, but spokesmen said it was not extensive and about normal for an electric storm.

The series of rainstorms started between 2 and 3 A. M. and continued until well into the morning.

The added precipitation was further assurance that the county's two big crops, corn and soybeans, now in their vital growing periods, have received sufficient moisture to insure maturity.

Death Car Driver Faces New Charge

Sheriff Orland Hays announced Thursday noon that after receiving the report on the blood test given Donald Eugene Bryan following death of two hitchhikers on the CCC Highway near this city early Sunday, he was filing a charge of driving while drunk against him.

Sheriff Hays stated that when Bryan appears in municipal court Friday morning to be arraigned on the two second degree manslaughter charges filed against him, he will also face the driving while drunk charge.

Sheriff Hays also said that he had received a letter from an attorney in Knoxville, Tenn., who stated he would be here soon with a view to filing a civil action for damages in connection with the case.

Bryan is being held as the driver of the car that hit Andrew Gossnell and Mary Ella Covington early Sunday morning on the CCC Highway near Memorial Hospital. Both were killed instantly.

Parents and Friends Here Visit Scouts

Between 55 and 60 parents and friends of the Boy Scouts in the two Fayette County troops now at Camp Lazarus spent the afternoon and evening of Wednesday with them there on visitors day.

At camp near Delaware this week are the boys of the Jeffersonville troop and the troop from the Children's Home. Also there are the boys from the Greenfield troop, many of whom are friends of the Fayette County boys.

Scouts of these three troops were only a part of the nearly 150 boys from other cities and towns in central Ohio at the camp for the week's outing.

No attempt was made to organize a motorcade for the trip by the visitors who went from here; cars were leaving Washington C. H. and Jeffersonville from early afternoon until around dinner time. But they all converged on Camp Lazarus.

They took ice cream and cake, cookies and watermelon, and even a few sandwiches, but none of that was brought out until after the regular camp supper. Then the Scouts sat down with their families and friends for what amounted to the dessert course.

At about 8:30 the group from here joined visitors from other places in the camp's amphitheater where a program and ceremony was held around the huge campfire.

There was a light sprinkle of rain, but not enough to interfere with the plans for the evening.

Ralph Penn Is Named On Ohio School Committee

Announcement has been made that Ralph R. Penn of this city has been made a member of the Committee for Ohio Schools, a volunteer organization dedicated to the purpose of persuading the next session of the Ohio General Assembly to restore to the Ohio school law the requirement for public schools to include a minimum course of fundamental studies in the school curriculum.

This subject was discussed by Attorney Fred J. Milligan of Columbus at the last regular meeting of the Rotary Club here.

The committee to which Penn has been appointed is made up of citizens from many points in Ohio that feel that such courses of study should be required in public schools especially in those schools where some fundamental courses have been dropped to be replaced by other courses which members of this committee believe to be far less important from the view point of balanced education for children in the schools.

He Should Give Himself Sales Pitch

CONCORD, N.C. (AP)—George Douglas Cordell, an insurance agent, parked his car in front of a client's house here yesterday. A few minutes later he came out and the car was gone.

He found it crashed against a tree 200 feet down the street, where it had rolled. Damages $250.

Cordell said remorsefully he had no collision insurance.

Camp Meeting Set For Tabernacle Here

The annual general assembly and camp meeting is now in progress at the non-sectarian Tabernacle on Washington Avenue and McLean Street in this city, according to announcement from those in charge.

Rev. Simon Gorman is the evangelist conducting the meetings and music is furnished by the singers composing the Evangelistic Gospel Trio from Manchester, Ohio. They appear at each evening and Sunday service.

Rev. and Mrs. Harry Fagan of Pennsylvania are conducting the daily Bible School, 9 to 11 A. M. A special prayer service is being held each day at 7 A. M. Meals served to those attending each day are breakfast at 8 A. M., dinner at 12 noon, supper at 4 P. M.

It is announced that assembly services each day at 9:30 A. M. and 2 P. M. are being featured with interesting timely topics with free discussion. At 7:45 there is a song service and preaching.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend. The church bus will pick up children desiring to attend the Bible School and those families which desire the children to be picked up are asked to phone the House of Prayer No. 4-7761.

City Founder Dies

SANDUSKY (AP)—A former city commissioner who also had helped set up Sandusky's form of government, Edgar B. Robinson, died yesterday at 84. He was the last surviving member of the Charter Commission of 1914.
